

Segall Bryant & Hamill Named to Financial Times 300 Top RIAs List

CHICAGO, August 4, 2020/PR Newswire/—Segall Bryant & Hamill is pleased to announce that it has been named to the 2020 edition of the Financial Times 300 Top Registered Investment Advisers. The list recognizes top independent RIA firms from across the U.S. Firms are assessed based on desirable traits for investors including their expertise, years of experience, industry certifications (e.g., CFP®, CFA®) and compliance records.

“We are honored to be recognized for our over 25 years of helping clients meet their financial goals as part of the 2020 Financial Times 300 Top RIAs,” said Philip Hildebrandt, Chief Executive Officer. “We believe this recognition as one of the nation’s top RIAs is a result of our dedication to proprietary investment research, our experienced investment professionals and a solutions-based approach to portfolio management,” commented Mr. Hildebrandt.

Firms cannot be nominated and make their own case to join this list. This list was produced independently by Ignites Research, a division of Money-Media, Inc., on behalf of the Financial Times. RIA firms applied for consideration, having met a minimum set of criteria, and were then graded on six factors: assets under management (AUM); AUM growth rate; years in existence; advanced industry credentials of the firm’s advisers; online accessibility; and compliance records.
